THE COURTS.

Installation of K. of P.—Tux of War—General.

The following orders were made in the First district court yesterday:

In the estate of William Hensing; on motion of E. R. Chase order continuing on the appeal until February 10, 1892.

D. P. Tarpey vs. Deseret Salt company; motion to return costs argued and overruled.

John H. Voorhees vs. Jennie A. Fisher; motion for a new trial argued by E. M. Allison for plaintiff and C. C. Day for defendant and taken under advisement by the court.

Utah National bank vs. Edward A. Reed et al.; on motion of Kimball & Allison; on filing an amended complaint making George H. Burgett guardian of Edward A. Reed, an incompetent person, that an alias summons issue in this cause on the amended complaint and service be made on defendant.

James Halpin vs. Ogden Street Railway company et al.; on motion of Evans & Rogers order allowing an amendment to the complaint to be filed. Order allowing report of referee to be filed and decree of foreclosure granted in accordance with said report. Defendant's counsel excepts to filing amendment to complaint on grounds that it comes too late.

It seems that Halpin erected the power house for the defendants and either drew a portion or none of the money due him and was unable to procure the balance. He took a mechanic's lien on the building and failing to get his money by that means, the mechanic's lien was ordered foreclosed by the referee to whom the matter was referred.

The necessary papers were placed in the hands of the United States marshal, who prepared a notice of sale of the property. Of course the building will not be sold, but the difficulty will no doubt be amicably adjusted.

BEFORE JUDGE CROSS.

John, Robert and Alvin Montgomery were arrested at North Ogden yesterday on the charge of making mischief. The defendants in the action rented a house to a family, and on ordering them out it is alleged they took the doors and windows of the building for the purpose of freezing them out. They were brought before Judge Cross for arraignment, and the case was postponed until 10 o'clock Monday.

PROBATE COURT.

In probate yesterday a single order was made.

In the matter of the estate of Edward Wattis, George L. Wattis was appointed administrator with bonds fixed at $2,000. An order was made for the publication of notice to creditors and the appointment of Timothy Kuhn, Alma Keys and Samuel Dye appraisers.

POLICE COURT.

Police court had the usual daily appearance yesterday, and only the regular routine of plain drunks was called before the bar of justice.

K. of P. Installation.

At the joint public installation of officers for the ensuing term of Queen City No. 7, and Lincoln No. 9 lodges of Knights of Pythias, held in Castle hall last evening, the following were duly ushered into office by the grand officers of the order: Queen City lodge No. 7—Chancellor: commander, W. G. Dalrymple; vice-chancellor, C. J. Pettie; grand master, H. C. Fulton; master of exchequer, L. H. Beason; master of finance, G. W. O'Brien; keeper of records and seal, George V. Schramm; master-at-arms, Max Davidson; trustee, W. P. Dwyer.

Lincoln lodge No. 9—Chancellor: commander, Howard Carpenter; vice-chancellor, T. D. Johnson; prelate, M. L. Lessner; master of exchequer, H. C. Ward; master of finance, F. T. Walther; keeper of records and seal, J. O. White; master-at-arms, W. A. Thompson.

A large attendance was present, and a banquet was held after the ceremonies.

General Gleanings.

The Ogden members of the legislature will leave for Salt Lake to-day.

The stormy weather has stopped work on the Utah university. But as soon as possible it will be resumed as usual.

Mrs. G. D. Dodge has returned from the east, where she has been for several months past on a visit among relatives and friends.

A tug war match between American, Danish, Irish and Scotch teams will begin in Ogden on the 13th inst. The first pull will be for $200 aside.

James Halpin and J. Whitaker will not leave for the coast to-day as was expected. They will take their departure some time next week.

The trustees of the Territorial Reform school met in the office of Attorney General yesterday to prepare their report to be presented to the legislature.

The Western Union Telegraph company have nearly all their new poles erected on Twenty-fourth street, between the Union depot grounds and Washington avenue.

A water-pipe burst on the floor above Freshman & Co.'s undertaking parlors yesterday afternoon and injured some very costly carpets. The loss will be several hundred dollars.

In speaking of the Utah bill yesterday, Jesse H. Hartsen said: "I agree in the opinion of Senator DeLoach, I approve of it and am in favor of anything that will give Utah fair and honest government and anything that will fairly settle the Mormon question."

The wife of Esberbeck, the man who suicided by arsenic poisoning at the European hotel several days ago, arrived in the city yesterday morning and ordered that the body of her husband be buried here. And they were consequently interred in the Mountain View cemetery yesterday afternoon. The lady returned to her home in San Francisco this morning.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

"In buying a cough medicine for children," says H. A. Walker, a prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it, and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have found it to be safe and reliable." 50-cent bottles for sale by Z. C. M. I. drug department.

DEMOCRAT CENTRAL COMMITTEE

The Beck-Bullion Company Secures a Hearing in a Case Affecting It.

W. H. Dixon appeared in court yesterday morning in behalf of the Bullion-Beck Company Mining company, asking a rehearing of the case of the Almo Mining company against the above named company. At a hearing of the case in December judgment was made against the Bullion-Beck company in default of the appearance of the attorney for the defendants. Affidavits were submitted showing it impossible for the counsel to be present on the date set for trial. M. M. Kellogg, on the other side, objected to a rehearing, urging that with the number of attorneys on the defense it is inexcusable that all should be absent on the day of trial. The judge granted a rehearing of the case upon the payment of costs and $200 for attorneys' fees for the plaintiffs. The case is appealed to the supreme court upon the filing of the writ of habeas corpus. Until Monday he gives to comply with the order of the court.

NOTES.

Mr. Dixon, of the city council, says that that body was somewhat indignant to find that the Tribune Publishing company had charged Provo City over $100 for the publication of a notice advertising Provo City bonds for sale. The Herald, whose prestige and circulation is greater, charged but $50 for the same notice, which was admitted without a kick, but the extortionate charges of the Tribune have caused dissatisfaction.

The Democratic central committee met yesterday to decide who would be substituted as officers in the coming legislative session. A committee of the chamber of commerce is at work arranging for a grand ball to be given in the near future.

The masked ball is announced for January 20, and will be given at the Gates-Snow hall. Some very unique invitations are being gotten out.

PARK CITY.

SATURDAY, January 9, 1892.

THE UTAH CENTRAL.

Difficulties in Battling With the Snow Blockade.

S. R. Shelp, of Kansas City, is at the Park hotel.

Superintendent Mackintosh, of the Utah Central railroad, came up with the relief train on Thursday.

That "misfortunes never come singly" was testified to by the Utah Central on Thursday. A train, and crew of fourteen men, and Superintendent Mackintosh, left Salt Lake city, en route to Park City with the snow plow to clear the tracks of snow. On Thursday or late yesterday they reached Geyora, nine miles from Park City. About a half mile from Geyora toward Park, the snow plow struck a "drift" which, proving too formidable, the plow jumped the track and ran down an embankment, or "fell" about eight feet. The tender was knocked completely over on its side, while the engine remained standing. The engineer and fireman, seeing the danger, jumped, barely escaping with their lives. The train then continued to Park City, arriving there at 6:15 p. m. The officials and men of the road have been indefatigable in their endeavors to clear the track.

The trains will now run on time.

On the 11th inst. McKee-Kankin will present "The Canucks," appearing one night only.

Mrs. Koons, the lady injured on Monday last, remains about the same.

TINTIC TINTABULATIONS.

Eureka is a Law Abiding Camp—Fires Quenched by Dampness—Mines.

The holidays are gone with all their joys and this great wealth-producing community are again tackling the stern realities of life. It is safe to say that nowhere in the interior mountain country can be found a community that behaves itself better than that found in this fortune-favored pass in the Quorrs. The reason is obvious; here all are content because they have been successful in the past, and no people have brighter prospects for a prosperous future and a successful people have less incentive to wrong doing than those who are by fortune forgotten. Notwithstanding this is a big camp, there is not a single culprit in our jail, our peace officers are enjoying a holiday rest and the stillness of the grave rests on our court house.

But one solitary case has been adjudged since the holidays, the case of an old resident of Eureka, against whom a complaint of disturbing the peace was sworn by an empty-headed, self-important, dandy of a county official, clothed in a little brief authority, a self-appointed censor of Eureka's morality. The defendant was championed by C. L. Brown, who, after the evidence was heard, did not deem to make a long argument, and after the learned (and prosecuting) attorney finished a cigarette or two he made a most startling appeal to the jury that would have cleared even Gaius, Julius Caesar or Benedict Arnold. It took the jury two minutes and two ticks by the watch to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

The insufficiency of the complaining witness was evidenced by the evidence, and a well-known gentleman was heard to remark, "Even a drunkard may reform, but a fool never does."

Thanks to the humidity of the shingle roofs of our town, it has not burned down this winter, although several incipient fires have stated, our good people still have homes. The cost of securing perfect safety from fire by defective flues and stove-pipes is slight, but that safety will never be had until we have a city government.

The funeral of our townsman, John Hardwick, was well attended. The Bullion-Beck Champion mine was closed down for the afternoon to allow the miners to pay their last respects to a beloved brother and miner who had served them in an official capacity in their union. Hardwick, although an Englishman born, had resided many years in Utah and more than twelve years last past had worked in Tintic, was as true an American at heart as our country could boast. Genial, kind-hearted and generous, a good citizen, a true friend and a faithful husband, beloved by all who knew him. His bereaved wife has the sympathy of all of our people. Requiescat in pace.

Many of our merchants take advantage of the time table of the Tintic branch railroad and make trips to the city, returning in time for supper the same day. The mines are all at work again, sending out their usual quotas of ore. The Keystone is undoubtedly one of the biggest mines in Utah and will send out many thousands of tons of ore in the near future. Ontario at Park City during the pending year if the means of holding is put in place soon. When Captain McChrysal began the development of this great mine he was said to be crazy by the knowing ones, but as he was doing it on his own money and not asking any help, the knowing ones allowed him to go ahead, as he was doing good by giving employment to a good many men. The self-styled experts could find fault and breaks in the formation that knocked the end clean off the Eureka Hill vein and sent it topsy-turvy back into the Bullion-Beck and that ended it. McChrysal after sending a life in the mines, many years in charge of the Eureka Hill, which property was made a mine by his perseverance, intelligent working and John Q. Packard's money. Know what he was about, and the result is one of the biggest and best mines in Utah. After the ore bodies in the Keystone were discovered, these same experts said, "I told you so," and now they are in to find other breaks and faults. "I told you so" in every mining camp and in every other branch of business, the Kickers and fault-finders will continue to live, and Tintic's worth as a field of new finds continue until the Mammoth on the south and the Mercury on the other side of Rush valley are connected by underground drifts and stops. Capital to develop our prospects is assured, and the coming season will be one of activity and prosperity.

The Alamo one which its owners C. Y. Patten and V. L. Thomas, gave a bond to Colorado parties over a year ago is to be started up again soon by responsible parties. Is the capitalists and owners can agree on terms. This is a flattering prospect and the 300 foot shaft needs but little more depth to make it a producer. The Alamo joins the Bullion-Beck company's ground on the northwest and is surely in good company.

Much interest is felt here in the outcome of the mutual grudge contest now before the land office in Salt Lake. If the mineral claimants are successful it will make one of the house owners who built after being warned not to do so by the claim owners, feel like they were being robbed and if the townsmen are successful a man can jump into a miners shaft and make a collar of it, and put a damper on prospecting.

EUREKA, Jan. 8, 1892.

PROF. LEWIS' STATEMENT.

He Resigned Because of the Lack of the Male Members of the Choir.

To the Editor of THE HERALD:

I wish to correct the statement made by someone under the heading of "Dramatic and Lyric" in last Sunday's issue. It was claimed I resigned because I did not get the support of the opera house orchestra. I wish to state that that is not so. I always depend on my vocal support. I have had the Logan tabernacle choir upwards of twenty years, some times without instrumental aid of any kind whatever. I resigned because of the lack of attendance on the part of male members. There were not half enough of them to balance the ladies. The ladies' support I highly appreciated; among them were a number of good readers. The help of instruments would have been highly appreciated, but I did not attach so great importance to them as to resign because of their absence.

PRONOUNCED HOPELESS, YET SAVED.

From a letter received from Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Grafton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at A. C. Smith & Co.'s drug store, regular size 50c. and $1.00.

Is it your fault or the boy's that Young Hopeful doesn't understand the meaning of the word he has encountered, or knows nothing about the man of whose actions he has been reading? The boy comes to you while you are deep in the real estate reports, and you are annoyed at the interruption. Does not part of your annoyance arise from the fact that you don't know yourself?

The whole trouble, both for the boy and yourself, would be avoided if you had an Encyclopedia in the house—a good, one that is. Like many other people, you have not such a work, and you say, with considerable justice, that you have been unable to afford the purchase of one. That was true in the past but is no longer the case.
